Join us for a virtual visit to the United Kingdom - Along the Offa’s Dyke National Walking Trail!

It is different hiking in the United Kingdom—often, the designated routes of the National Trails cross working farms instead of forests. Trails have stiles and gates, hikers can have encounters with sheep and cattle.

Join Bill Schwarz and Charlotte Smith on their guided, six-day tour of Offa’s Dyke Path last May; Offa’s Dyke Path is located along the Welsh/English border.

Offa was King of Mercia, a small kingdom before England was united. Around A.D. 800, he ordered a 77-mile rampart be built to divide his realm from the Welsh. Some sections of the Path, which follows the defensive bank, still form the Wales/England border today.

The Path has stunning landscapes (Wales ain’t flat!), historic canals, lime works, and castles.

And don’t forget the tearooms and pubs!

Program
Offa’s Dyke National Walking Trail with Bill Schwartz and Charlotte Smith

Chapter snowshoe rentals

Chapter Members: $10/weekday; $15/weekend
Non-Members: $13/weekday; $18/weekend

Or do we have mud??
During spring mud season, trails are particularly vulnerable to erosion. It is therefore best to stay off higher elevation trails during early spring.

The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation institutes a voluntary trail closure in the Eastern High Peaks during this time of year that asks hikers to refrain from traveling above 3,000 feet. This protects alpine vegetation and prevents trail erosion. More information on trail conditions in the Adirondacks can be found on the DEC Web site or by contacting the DEC Forest Rangers at 518-897-1200 or ADK Info Ctr at 518-523-3441.

Closure typically runs from May-mid June.
Rites of Spring!

By Laura Fiske, Chapter Chair

Since this is the first newsletter of 2015 and covers early spring, I will mention some of the annual rites of spring.

First is the anticipated mud season. Remember mud season is not a set date, so please check the DEC website for trail condition updates if you are planning an outing to the High Peaks. A lot of snow run-off is anticipated for this spring. As a reminder, if there is an outing scheduled for the High Peaks and the DEC announces a mud season alert, the outing will either be rescheduled or moved to a different location.

Second, Adirondack Sports & Fitness will be holding their expo in March at the City Center in Saratoga Springs. In addition to the many vendors and seminars, ADK will have a table setup to allow members to connect with prospective members and educate event attendees about ADK’s missions and initiatives. The Glens Falls-Saratoga Chapter is always asked to help due to our proximity to the City Center. Additionally, EMS usually holds spring club days at their stores, so be on the lookout for a request to help with staffing a table.

Third, the chapter annually schedules a trail maintenance day on the Tongue Mountain Range, a popular area in the Lake George region, on Sat. April 25.

If you have expressed interest or are a regular volunteer at the expo, EMS club days, or trail maintenance day on Tongue Mountain, expect a phone call or email. If you would like to help out for the first time please complete the volunteer request form available on the website (located under Chapter Information/Forms and Guidelines). Please mail the form to my home address or scan the completed form and email it to me at chapterchair@adk-gfs.org. These three opportunities are a great way to give back the organization and make some new friends.

Since I am currently working on the fire tower challenge and I am a recent Saranac 6er, I have had the pleasure to meet many of our chapter members out on the trail. Hiking trips are a great way to talk with members and non-members (you spend a lot of time with people between the drive and the hiking) about the ADK and our chapter. I think I have perfected the elevator speech regarding the needs and accomplishments for our chapter! One thing I tell people is that they should come to an Executive Committee meeting to learn more about how the chapter operates and hear the issues the chapter leaders discuss. Executive Committee meetings happen on the first Wednesday of each month and alternate between Glens Falls and Saratoga Springs. Meeting dates, times, and locations are listed in the chapter calendar in this newsletter.

As always, I close with letting you know that we have openings on the Executive Committee for vice chairs and directors. These are crucial positions necessary to ensure your chapter continues to function smoothly. The Director position is our liaison to the main club. Directors attend quarterly meetings at the Lake George location and represent the chapter at these meetings. Vice chairs are needed to provide succession for the chapter chair position and provide administrative support to the Chapter Chair. If you are interested in these positions please let me know. You can also check out the job descriptions for these positions on the chapter website (Chapter Information/By-Laws Document).
Volunteer is needed to join Chapter Executive Committee as the Newsletter Editor

This position requires familiarity with Microsoft Word and the knowledge or ability to learn Microsoft Publisher.

Publisher uses many of the same concepts and techniques of Microsoft Word with additional features tailored for newsletters. If someone is willing to learn, we will train that person with the skills necessary to become our Newsletter Editor.

The chapter issues a newsletter six times per year that contains information on chapter programs, outings and other activities as well as updates from various committees and the main club. Each issue is between 12 and 16 pages depending on the content.

Unique content comes from Executive Committee members. This content is copied to Microsoft Word documents and sent to volunteers to proofread and make corrections. The previous Newsletter is used as a layout template. Content is copy/pasted from the Word documents into text boxes in the Microsoft Publisher document.

The Editor prints the Publisher document as a PDF and sends it to the printing company. It is estimated the entire process takes approximately 10-15 hours per newsletter for the Editor.

As a voting member of the Executive Committee this position also requires attendance at the monthly Executive Committee meetings. For more info, please contact Laura Fiske: chapterchair@adk-gfs.org.

Welcome to Your Newest Executive Committee Member

Glens Falls – Saratoga Chapter Donations for 2015

Each year the Glens Falls-Saratoga Chapter makes donations to organizations that our members benefit from. These organizations are working to protect open space, maintaining trails and preserves used by our members, caring for towers and summits which are part of the chapter’s Fire Tower Challenge, or providing opportunities for children to experience camping so they will learn to value the Adirondacks. Our donations for 2015 include the following groups:

Adirondack High Peak Summit Stewardship Program
Feeder Canal Alliance
Friends of Poke-O-Moonshine
Friends of Spruce Mountain Fire Tower
Hadley Mountain Fire Tower
Lake George Land Conservancy
Queensbury Land Conservancy
Refugees to Camp
Saratoga PLAN
Vanderwhacker Fire Tower
Wilton Wildlife Preserve and Park
The snow should begin to melt soon and warmer temperatures are coming. If you’ve been cooped up inside all winter it’s time to get outside. The Fire Tower Challenge is a great reason to get out with family and friends to enjoy the woods and accomplish a goal. An updated brochure can be printed off the chapter’s website.

We also were able to sponsor four others to attend a week at Pack Forest: Stephanie and Erik Defibaugh of Mechanicville, Jonathan Klompas of Clifton Park, and Felicia Timson of Schenectady. Returning to ADK’s Teen Trail program is Andrew Williams of Gansevoort and Walker Caffry Randall of Waitsfield, Vermont. Congratulations to all.

The following people have recently received their Fire Tower Challenge patches:

Kevin Haggerty, Albany, NY
Donna and Stewart Jerdo, Moriah, NY
The Boltash Family, Broadalbin, NY
Nicholas J. Nicholas W. (started at age 11, ended age 13)
Isabelle (started at age 10, ended age 12)
Matthew (started at age 6, ended at 8)
Craig Lewis, Webster, NY
Jennifer Bailey, Syracuse, NY

Congratulations to all! Don’t forget that next winter you can start working on getting the Winter Rocker!

See website for current status of Towers!

Update: Spruce Mountain - Fire Tower Challenge

Trail access to the Spruce Mountain summit passes through private property owned by Lyme Timber Company in Hanover, NH. Without obtaining permission prior to your hike, the public does not have permission to trespass on Lyme Timber Company land. Because of this access issue, Spruce Mountain is currently not included in the Fire Tower Challenge. Climbs completed prior to January 12, 2015 will count towards the challenge. NYS DEC and Lyme Timber Company have a tentative agreement to open the trail completely for public access (the trail will be closed during big game rifle season). When this agreement is finalized, NYS DEC and ADK (Glen Falls-Saratoga Chapter) will post a notice on their respective websites. At which time, Spruce Mountain will again be included in the Fire Tower Challenge. For more information contact: wilderness@adk-gfs.org

Update: Loon Lake Mountain included in the Fire Tower Challenge

Effective November 2, 2011 Loon Lake Mountain in the northern Adirondacks is included in the Fire Tower Challenge and counts toward the 18 Adirondack fire towers. If you have a brochure that does not list this fire tower, please manually add it to the list along with the date of your climb in order to receive credit for this tower. "AFRICART"
Come see old Africa through the photographs of Bob McDermott and Linda Zila

Africa: the place from which humans migrated to all other places on Earth, the home to vast herds of animals and the predators that depend on them for life itself and the emerging vibrancy and vitality of people learning to live in the modernity of the twenty-first century. Africa offers so many juxtapositions -- the old village hut adjacent to the new shopping mall, the placid flow of a river on a calm morning jolted by the thunder of Victoria Falls, the nonchalance of Heuglin’s Robin’s song broken by the excitement of battle between lions and cape buffaloes, and supermarket shelf space shared by the peanut butter and kudu stew.

Africa is a fairy tale of contrasts that my wife Linda and I were so very fortunate to experience in June of 2013. We traveled through the southern African countries of Botswana, Zambia, Zimbabwe, and South Africa, spending day after day on safari with expert guides, sleeping in tented camps in the wilds of the bush, and hearing the nocturnal roars of lions close-by. All these experiences kindled a great animation in us and provided an unparalleled opportunity to photograph through the closing door of Africa’s wilderness. Who knows how much longer the "not-so-dark" continent will remain pristine and rousing, even dangerous? From what we saw, it will not be any great expanse of time. The pressures of population and development are threatening to shut the portal forever. How grand, then, to have seen Eden before it is despoiled beyond recognition.

Bob and Linda are ADK members who have lived in Chestertown full-time since 2003 when they retired and moved north from the Big Apple. In New York City, Bob led hikes for the Long Island Chapter and visited the Adirondacks regularly. Just back from Central America, Bob and Linda’s travels have taken them to all seven continents including the lands down under, Australia and New Zealand; Tahiti and Hawaii; Peru (the Amazon and Machu Picchu); the Galapagos and Easter Island; Antarctica, including South Georgia Island; Chile and Argentina (including Patagonia and Tierra del Fuego); India and Vietnam; Cambodia’s Angkor Wat; Norway’s Arctic Svalbard; Greenland and Iceland; the remote islands of the Atlantic Ridge: Tristan da Cunha, St. Helena (where Napoleon died),Ascension; and more, like Alaska and the rest of wonderful North America. This is a resume to which they will continue to add bucket-list destinations until their bucket runneth over!

Hope you enjoy both our photography and presentation.
Wildlife biologist Paul G. Jensen will present a talk on "Big Cats of the Adirondacks" on Wednesday, May 27 at 7 p.m. The program is co-sponsored by the Southern Adirondack Audubon Society and the Glens Falls-Saratoga Chapter of the Adirondack Mountain Club.

The program will be held in the Christine L. McDonald Community Room on the lower level of Crandall Library in downtown Glens Falls.

Dr. Jensen will talk about the biology, management, and the current and historical populations and distribution of the Canada lynx, bobcat, and mountain lion in New York and the Northeast; he will also discuss how these species may fare in the future.

Dr. Jensen is a Senior Wildlife Biologist for the Division of Fish, Wildlife, and Marine Resources at the NYS Department of Environmental Conservation office in Warrensburg. His responsibilities include furbearer management and research, as well as wildlife management planning for Adirondack Forest Preserve units (e.g., Wilderness Areas and Wild Forest) in NYSDEC Region 5. He earned a Ph.D. in 2013 from the Department of Natural Resource Sciences at McGill University in Montreal, Quebec. His doctoral research focused on the ecology and management of American martens (Martes americana) in the Adirondack Park.

Before joining the DEC in 2003, Dr. Jensen worked in Alaska monitoring caribou and other large mammals on the Arctic Coastal Plain and conducted research with the New York Cooperative Fish and Wildlife Research Unit at Cornell University. He received his M.S. in Wildlife Ecology from the University of New Hampshire and his B.S. in Environmental Biology from SUNY College of Environmental Science and Forestry.

Please avoid wearing fragranced products to the program. Fragranced products trigger allergies, asthma, and migraines in others attending the event.

CONSERVATION NEWS

By Jacki Bave

Watershed Property to be Opened for Public Recreation – Officials from the City of Glens Falls and the Town of Queensbury have reached an agreement to open a portion of the City's watershed property for public recreation. The property is located in the Town of Queensbury; the Town will develop trails on the land and the City will retain its water rights. Past issues with adequately protecting the water supply had been an obstacle to opening the lands...

A loop trail around Butler Pond will be open for walkers and bicyclists during the non-winter months. Part of this trail is on a Warren County snowmobile route, thus making it unavailable for other uses during the winter. Another short trail along Halfway Brook will be open year-round; it will connect Aviation Road to Peggy Ann Road. Parking areas are planned for Butler Pond Road and Aviation Road.

Public Right of Navigation Upheld – In January, the Appellate Division of NY’s Supreme Court upheld a 2013 lower court decision in favor of a journalist sued by property owners who claimed that waterways on their land should be closed to the public. The lawsuit originated when private landowners in an area near the Whitney Wilderness Canoe Area challenged a 1998 ruling establishing recreational use as a valid reason for whether or not a waterway should be open to public use. These landowners, who had put up barriers and ‘No Trespassing’ signs along Shingle Shanty Brook, filed a lawsuit against a paddler who published an account of a paddling trip along the brook between Little Tupper Lake and Lake Lila. Supporters of paddlers’ rights welcomed January’s ruling and hope that it will open up more waterways for public use. The property owners said they will likely appeal this new ruling to a higher court - the Court of Appeals.

Governor’s Budget Proposes Increase for Environmental Protection Fund – Governor Cuomo has proposed increasing the Environmental Protection Fund’s (EPF) budget allocation from $162 million to $172 million. Environmental groups, including the Adirondack Mountain Club, had been pushing for an increase to $200 million. The fund is used for projects such as open space protection, stewardship of state parks and other public lands, controlling invasive species, and restoring historic sites.

KANE MT. WINTER FIRE TOWER CHALLENGE  -  [Hike/Snowshoe]
Sun, Mar 1, 2015, 9:30 am, Rating: C
Jack Whitney - 793-9210, jack1758@roadrunner.com
- A short hike with around 580 ft of elevation. This is a good hike for beginning hikers or snowshoers. Call or e-mail leader for details.

TUESDAY TREK  -  [Walk/Ski/Snowshoe]
Tue, Mar 3, 2015, time TBD, Rating: NR
Maureen Coutant - 745-7834, mojim@roadrunner.com
- The midweek trips are usually within an hour of Glens Falls and done in a couple of hours, or by mid afternoon if doing a longer trip. I try to mix up the outings from easy to hard. Call or email Sunday evening or Monday or check website to find out what we'll be doing. I try for Tuesdays, but weather or an appointment may force it to change.

Sat, Mar 14, 2015, 9:00 am, Rating: B
Nick Ringelberg - 518-522-6683, nickringelberg@yahoo.com
- OK Slip Falls is rated the highest direct drop falls in the Adirondacks at about 300 feet. In the early spring there will be lots of ice in the gorge but the water fall should be impressive. Via the newly built (year old) trail, about a 6 mile round trip with the option of another 2 miles to drop down to the Hudson River to see the crazy white water rafters.

GOODNOW MT.  -  [Hike/Snowshoe]
Sun, Mar 15, 2015, 9:00 am, Rating: B-
Jack Whitney - 793-9210, jack1758@roadrunner.com
- This is a moderate climb for 3.8 mile RT to another fire tower summit. You have to climb up the tower for a bit (the cab is closed) n order to get views but once there, on a good day, there are fantastic views of the High Peaks. Elevation gain is 1040 ft. Beginners to snowshoeing are welcome.

B HIKE TO BE DETERMINED
Sat, Mar 21, 2015, 9:00 am, Rating: B-
Reg Prouty - 518-747-9736
- This will be a hike up the blue trail to the summit of French Mountain overlooking the southern Lake George basin with westward views toward Gore and Crane. The climb begins on the Lake George bike trail near the Log Jam Restaurant. The ascent after leaving the bike trail is steady but not very steep (about 700 feet of ascent total) and 5 miles round trip.

THROUGH SKI - SOUTH MEADOWS - TAHAWAS
Sun, Mar 22, 2015, 8:00 am, Rating: A+
Steve Mackey - 793-6848, smackey33@verizon.net
- This is a Classic Cross Country Ski trip through Avalanche Pass, Lake Colden, Flowed Lands etc. We have a few options based on conditions and how many people elect to go. Ideally, we would have a group ski from the south, and a group ski from the north and do a key exchange, and meet up somewhere for dinner. Option two is that we spot a car and ski from the north. Option three is that we ski from the Loj, go as far as we want and then ski back. If conditions are good, this route is about as good as it gets. There are some fast downhills, no matter what direction you go, so you should be an experienced skier.

Sat, Apr 11, 2015, 7:00 am, Rating: A+
Bill Morse - 518-585-9153, fishermanpike@yahoo.com
- Meeting at the Clay Meadow Trail-head on route 9N at 7AM. We will hike to Montcalm Point (Point of Tongue) along North-west Bay of Lake George. We return over the Tongue Mt. range. This involves going up and down 5 small mountains in the range. (Includes 1st peak, French Point Mt. and 5th peak). Total distance is 13.25 miles with elevation gain around 4,000 feet. (It is 5 small mountains, remember.) Be prepared for a hike, snowshoes, and/or microspikes. Leader may bring dog.

SARATOGA BATTLEFIELD  -  [ Hike ]
Sat, Apr 11, 2015, 9:00 am, Rating: C+
Rich Crammond - 518-584-2380
- Having grown up just south of the Battlefield, I've sense changes to the landscape through the years. Hike along with this old ADKer and I'll share them with you: on trail, off trail, on road, off road. Around 5 or 6 miles of hiking with some muddy spots, too. Think adventure. Meeting place: Visitor parking lot off Route 32.

GEocache
Mon, Apr 13, 2015, 9:00 am, Rating: NR
Sarah King - 798-0615, scubakings@roadrunner.com
- During the school year, we go out every month for a walk or hike with the purpose of finding geocaches that have been hidden lately. You don't have to know anything about geocaching to come. It's just another excuse to get out in the woods. Call or email a few days before to find out the plan!

RAINBOW FALLS  -  [ Hike ]

Trip Reviews

Wilton Wildlife Park Hike/Snowshoe  Sat, Dec 13, 2014, Rich Crandall
- Man, was this a hike to remember. It went from a C hike to a B, complete with blowdown that 'blocked' the trail in one area; a rugged hike for sure. We hiked with folks from the New Jersey Chapter of ADK. They gave the hike a 10+ from 1 to 10 so that's a plus for this ADKer. Great snowshoe outing. Participants: Charles Dolin, Leah Dolin, Ann Dolin, John Good, Rich Crandall.

Tues Trek  Tue, Dec 16, 2014, Mo Coutant
- So we started up the Tuesday Treks this week due to rain/snow/sleet the prior week. We started off small with a 2 mile loop around the Van Dusen Preserve in Queensbury. This loop on the side of the small mountain doesn't have many views, but this time of year you can see through the trees to the West Mtn range and the Qsby/Giens Falls area. The wet snow from the prior week was still clinging to the trees and made for a beautiful hike in the woods. The trail was packed down, so all we needed was grippers. Participants: Mo Coutant, Paul Dietershagen, Sarah King, Licia Mackey, Gary Rodd, George & Irene Sammons, Joanne Szot.

Tues Trek  Tue, Dec 23, 2014, Mo Coutant
- Ohhhh the weather outside was almost frightful, but the fire in the warming hut delightful...so around the lake we went, let it rain, let it rain, let it rain! It was actually only a drizzle and it only got worse later in the day, so we were all glad we got out for a little exercise and enjoyed each other's cookies afterwards in the warming hut at Moreau Lake. A nice break from the holiday stress! Participants: Mo Coutant, Paul Dietershagen, Licia Mackey, Laurie Williams, Donna, Mitch, and Stephanie Zimmer.

Tues Trek  Tue, Dec 30, 2014, Mo Coutant
- We'll it wasn't a winter wonderland, so no sledding, skating, or snowshoeing at Gurney Lane Park in Queensbury. We didn't even use our grippers to walk along the trails and there was even someone there using the trails to mountain bike! We walked around all the loops and even accidentally wound up on the new mountain bike trails at the end. Eventually we made it back to our cars after more than 1-1/2 hours out enjoying the beautiful day and trails! Participants: Stuart Brown, Annmarie Carberry, Mo Coutant, Nancy Kimball, Sarah King, Eric Krantz, Licia Mackey, Gary Rodd, Bill Schwarz, Joanne Szot.

Annual Buck Mountain New Year's Day Hike  Thu, Jan 1, 2015, Reg Prouty and Bob Ashpohm
- Before the hike we met 2 rangers who were there to cut a new trail which was recommended and proposed years ago by Jack Freeman to alleviate the extreme erosion that has occurred over the last few decades on the main trail to Prospect from Lake George Village. They told us to go ahead and follow their newly cut trail on the return trip. The state is expected, they said, to make the 'Jack Freeman' trail an officially marked trail up Prospect Mountain. We found 2 picnic tables out of the wind and had our lunch and our usual musical 'Auld Lang Syne' celebration before returning to the recreation area parking lot. 8 participants: Congratulations to young Lauren Trackey for leading the pack with her youthful enthusiasm most of the day, Mike and Diana Trackey, Mark Seymour, Mike Dashnaw, Jayne Bouder, Bob Ashpohm, and Reg Prouty.

Giant via Roaring Brook  Sat, Jan 3, 2015, Bill Morse
- Starting out on the Roaring Brook trail it was a little cold, but no wind. But we warmed up quickly with the steady ascent that Giant offers. Icy in spots, but easily navigable with microspikes. (Although a couple of us realized our spikes are pretty worn out.) Gaining elevation, there was more snow and, with the cold clear day, great views. Short stay on top because there was some wind there. Good trip down although one or two of us learned not to butt slide on bumpy steep sections of ice. Ice has little give, much more fun in the snow. Out and home before the storm. Participants Colleen Downing, Patrick Reilly, Joann Walzacak, and Bill Morse.

Monthly Monday Geocache  Mon, Jan 5, 2015, Sarah King
- Well, the frigid temperatures and wind didn't keep four hearty souls from geocaching today! After meeting at Panera, we drove to the The Lynn LaMontagne Schummarn Preserve at Pilot Knob, formerly known as the Pilot Knob Ridge Preserve. We immediately donned our micro spikes as the parking lot was like an ice skating rink! After bundling up, we signed in (and found the geocache in the kiosk) and headed up the trail. Micro spikes were essential wear this day as the trail was all ice. We all agreed we couldn't have done it without them. We made it up to the gazebo in 45 minutes, admired the view fairly quickly (the wind was whipping) and headed up the blue trail toward the waterfall and the 3 new caches there. Our first cache, Pilot Knob view, was at a lesser known overlook. We found the cache hanging in a tree and moved on to the next one. The next one was right on the blue trail. One wouldn't notice it unless you were looking up. The last cache was on the waterfall loop. We followed the trail northeast where it rounds a bend and makes a short steep rock scramble up to an elevated area. We searched until we found the right hemlock that the cache was hanging on. We finished geocaching and continued on to the top of the falls and continued around the loop and back down to the gazebo, where Licia brought out some delicious muffins. We all agreed seconds would be eaten in the car. As always, great day out with some very dedicated friends/geocachers! Participants: Sarah King, Mo Coutant, Licia Mackay, Todd Earl.

East Dix, Macomb, and South Dix/Grace Pk  Sat, Jan 10, 2015, Steve Mackey and Rick Lennox
- This ended up being a really cold day, which made it hard to stay together. We ended up splitting up a couple of times, once by choice, once by accident. All ended well, and the last head lamps came bobbing out around 8:30. We had to break trail going down Lillian Brook, but it was mostly route finding, not really moving a lot of snow. When we were in the wind, it was very cold, and any exposed skin was in danger of frost bite. At
Tuesday Trek  Tue, Jan 13, 2015, Mo Coutant
- This week we had gotten a little bit of snow, so I decided if it was skiable anywhere south of Glens Falls it would be at the Wilton Wildlife Preserve (WWP). It had just enough snow and some previous tracks to follow. A Saratoga County employee told us there wasn’t enough snow to groom the trails, but it worked for us! The WWP was new to some and great to get back to for the others. Hopefully, we’ll get a little more snow and can get back again! Glad to see the single digit temps didn’t keep everyone away! Participants: Doug & Judy Beers, Mo Coutant, Liz Gee, Joy Munro, Kathi Noble

Tues Trek  Tue, Jan 20, 2015, Mo Coutant
- This week we walked along the Skidmore North Woods trail system. The hardest part was finding each other! Who would have guessed there was construction at the end of the road that leads to the trailhead. So, the GF car pools parked in one lot and most of the others parked in another one...with a few more finding their own spots. Eventually, all but Paul found each other. We explored the Pit of Doom (old well), the Tee Pee and Long House, and almost the lost ski area...from afar. Microspikes were the perfect footwear for the day! They’re expensive but we’ve gotten the most use out of them the past few years. Afterwards a dozen of us took over the sectional couch and chairs at Uncommon Grounds. Participants: Joanne Armstrong, Doug & Judy Beers, Mo Coutant, Rich Drew, Liz Gee, Mark Janey, Nancy Kimball, Eric Krantz, Licia & Steve Mackey, Kathy McMahon, Kathi Noble, Jim Ralston, Joanne Sotz, and Paul Dietershagen who didn’t find us!

Hudson Crossing / Happy New Year Outing  Sat, Jan 24, 2015, Rich Crammmond
- This was not a real good day for spotting eagles but we did see one metal one with its wings spread out on top of a high pole. Does that count? Anyway, it was nice to hike with hiking buds who I’ve shared many outings with and who have taught me some things about ADK outings along the way. Highlights of this outing were seeing many goldeneye and mallard ducks, bittersweet vines like never seen before, acting like actor Jimmy Stewart on the Dix bridge, and hiking with new ADK participants like Kathie Horn. It doesn’t get any better. Participants: Jean Holcomb, Kathie Horn, Jayne Boudier, Rich Crammmond.

PYRAMID & GOTHICS  Sat, Jan 24, 2015, Steve Mackey
- During Christmas break we were visiting friends in Burlington and while shopping in an outdoor gear store, one of the employees recognized me from the PCT. Molly (trail name Frizzle) had also thru hiked this year, and we agreed to try to get together and hike something in the Adirondacks this winter. So Molly, her sister Callie, and Callie’s husband Sean came over from Vermont and met us at the trail head. For the first time ever (since I’ve been leading this trip), everybody actually cross country skied. The conditions were a little icy, but as we gained elevation they got better and better. The trail from Lower Ausable Lake was well packed and though we carried snowshoes we never used them. Microspikes were useful and were the footwear of choice. The views were spectacular and the summit wasn’t too cold nor too windy. On the way down Heather and I tried out our new ‘Slope Sliders’ and had a rapid out of control descent. Luckily all turned out well, but I think in hindsight that Pyramid might be a little too steep for our new toys. Since we had such good skiers, we whizzed out and were at the cars around 4:30. Participants: Molly Krumholz, Callie Krumholz Linehan, Sean Linehan, Mark Janey, Steve & Heather Mackey

Tues Trek  Tue, Jan 27, 2015, Mo Coutant
- This week we did our annual mixed event near Cronins. Some walked the trails and others xc skied on the golf course. It was a beautiful bright blue day with the sunshine making the new fluffy snow sparkle. At the end we met up and did a little jaunt towards the river and on the way back Irene and Gary made snow angels. We also passed a sign that said ‘Men in Trees’ and another sign earlier that Read ‘Hudson River 16?? - 2009’ I can’t remember the beginning date. But both signs made us wonder and gave us plenty to talk about! (Not that we needed more material!) Afterwards we all went to the Willows in Wsbg for a bite to eat. Participants: Mo Coutant, Paul Dietershagen, Eric Krantz, Heather & Licia Mackey, Kathi Noble, Gary Rodd, George & Irene Sammons.

The Santanonis  Sat, Jan 31, 2015, Wayne Richter and Mike Fuller
- We had a gorgeous, though windy and cold, day with lots of spectacular views in the clear air. With a few inches of new snow, a group of four the day before and a couple of people ahead of us, the trail was well broken out. Upon arriving at the ridge top, Mike broke out his delicious coffee brownies. While we snacked, some of us caught sight of a pine marten. With a few people leaving packs behind, we headed over to Panther, with great views. Upon our return, Mike found some aluminum foil on the ground outside his pack. Opening the pack, he discovered that a marten had wiggled its way inside and made a good start on his sandwich. We then made the long descent towards Couchsachraga. The horrid mud swamp of summer was now an open, sunny expanse, out of the wind, and a perfectly pleasant place for lunch. Being one with the pine marten, Mike ate the entire remains of his sandwich. Having thus bonded with the pine marten on a day with a nearly full moon visible well before dark, we’re pretty sure that Mike is now a were-marten. Watch for him to sprout fur and pointy ears, and start chasing down squirrels and raiding hiker’s packs on the next full moon hike. Up to Couchsachraga, then back down to the swamp where we had excellent views of an inquisitive pine marten. We stopped again at Times Square where Wayne handed out chocolate chip and dried cherry cookies (Mike and Wayne are full service hike leaders) and we watched yet another pine marten. Then it was on to our final peak. As we approached Santanoni, the wind rose and became bitter. We were surprised to see four people who had passed us earlier coming up the Santanoni Express trail. They had spent a fruitless hour trying to find the path after it had drifted over and decided to come back up and return by the Bradley Pond trail. We made a brief summit stop at Santanoni before deciding that, with a half hour of good daylight remaining, we should also take the long way back. The open ridge back to Panther in the setting sun was glorious. As we headed down, the moon was so bright that we often could turn off our headlamps and walk by moonlight alone. What a great finish! 8 participants: Katherine Bannigan, David Charles, Chris Collins, Mike Fuller, Davis Hawkowl, Helen Hokula, Mark Janey, Wayne Richter.

Dix Mt. from Rt. 73  Sat, Jan 31, 2015, Bill Morse
- Rescheduled to March 14.

Sign-Up to help Protect Hemlocks in the Adirondack Park! This Citizen Scientist Monitoring Project for Hemlock Woolly Adelgid (HWA) in the Adirondack Park asks you to adopt your favorite section of trail, stream bank, or lakeshore and survey it twice a year for HWA.

Background: HWA is an aggressive, devastating invasive insect (see image above) that kills a host tree in a few years. Our eastern hemlocks, which have little or no resistance to these infestations, have been hit hard by HWA in many areas south of the Adirondacks. In the Adirondack Park there are significant hemlock communities (see hemlock distribution map).

The only hope for our Adirondack hemlocks is early detection and response. In July 2014, Adirondack Mountain Club (ADK) hosted a Hemlock Woolly Adelgid (HWA) citizen science monitoring training at our Lake George Office with the Adirondack Park Invasive Plant Program (APIPP), NYS Office of Parks Recreation and Historic Preservation (OPRHP), Cornell University, and the Cornell Cooperative Extension. This event initiated a long-term citizen science monitoring program for HWA in the Adirondacks.

HWA has not been reported in the Adirondack Park, yet. We are asking you to simply adopt an area of the Adirondack Park that you live near or that you enjoy visiting regularly, and then twice a year check your area for signs of HWA infestation.

Your participation is essential to help protect our hemlocks by detecting early signs and symptoms of HWA. When you sign-up for this project we'll follow-up with you by email and ask you to choose an area to survey, a favorite section of trail, stream bank, or lakeshore. Your job will be to survey your area at least twice a year for HWA. The survey is a simple process of recording the location of the beginning and end of your survey, counting the number of trees you look at by observing the underside of their low-hanging branches, and letting us know if you find anything. When you sign-up we'll keep you informed about up-coming workshops so that you can get some hands-on field experience searching for HWA. We'll also encourage you (but it is not required) to become familiar with IMAP Invasives, which has spring training sessions, and on-line training.
Outings Instructions: For more information see “Chapter Handbook” on our website’s Chapter Links

Contact the Outing Leader at least two days (preferably a week), before the activity so he/she can explain the capabilities required and to determine the number attending. Failure to call may result in not knowing about cancellations, rescheduled departures, etc. Guests are always welcome, but must also register! PLEASE be considerate when signing up for a trip. Advise the leader if you cannot make a trip so as not to impact others’ plans. Trips WILL BE CANCELLED if minimums are not met, thereby affecting all parties. For safety, the MINI MUM number for Outings is: 3 people, including the leader (4 in winter).

Meeting Place Information - Panera Bread

Travel Information/Car Pools
We encourage carpooling to trailheads for both environmental and practical reasons (limited trailhead parking) and may alter meeting locations due to destination or participants. If you are able, it’s helpful to offer to drive your vehicle. If you are a passenger, consider current fuel prices, travel miles and number of passengers when contributing your fair share to the driver.

Participation Guidelines
Leaders are responsible to evaluate interested parties’ fitness for that outing, review specific guidelines, and lead the trip. They are not paid guides, but volunteers. Participants are asked to cooperate and respect their authority and decisions. *Is this the right Outing for you? For those not experienced in strenuous trips, it is best to begin with something easier and work your way up. The Leader will assist in evaluating skill level and suggest alternative outings if more appropriate. For the safety and comfort of all, the Leader has the discretion to deny participation if he/she feels someone is not a good match for that trip. Based on the expectations and skills of the entire group, Leaders may have more flexibility for some trips, so definitely talk with them. DO NOT TRY STRENUOUS OUTINGS UNLESS YOU HAVE DONE THAT ACTIVITY REGULARLY (and recently and are in good shape and with the necessary experience for that outing). *An ADK Liability Waiver must be provided by the Leader and signed by all participants before the trip begins. This is a requirement by ADK HQ. Parents must sign for minors. *No Pets allowed on outings except where designated in the description.

Dogs
Participants in Chapter outings will be allowed to bring their dogs on outings in the following circumstances: (1) the outing has been designated by the outing leader as a “dog outing” and which has been publicized as such; or (2) the outing leader may bring his/her dog, that has not been designated as a “dog outing,” if the notice of the outing discloses that the leader will be doing so. All dogs on Chapter outings will be kept on a leash at all times.

Hiking Needs/Preparation/Equipment
Bring trail food and plenty of water on ALL hikes! *Clothing made of Polyester blends, polarguard or wool are recommended as they retain warmth even when wet. — please do not wear 100% cotton clothing! It is also wise to bring raingear. Other pack essentials: compass and map, headlamp/flashlight, first aid kit, hat, gloves, and extra socks. Adirondack weather can and does change suddenly. Don’t trust the forecast or the sky based on the start of the day. Be prepared!

Ratings
Special Winter Needs
In addition to the preparation/equipment mentioned above, winter requires some EXTRA planning. Look for special notes in the Outing description and discuss with the Leader. Depending on conditions, participants can expect to bring Snow Shoes and Crampons. Bring lots of Water. Dehydration comes easier in the winter and we feel its effects later ... usually AFTER the fact. Be wise with Emergency Clothing. Bring an extra wool/polypro hat, mittens and socks. Vented Shell pants, jackets and mittens are commonly used with warm layers beneath.
