More information on how to register will be on our website and in the September Chepontuc Footnotes.

John Brown Lives! September 15, 2021 7 pm Zoom

Over a century ago, the State of New York was gifted the Adirondack home of Abolitionists John and Mary Brown on the condition that it be used "for the purpose of a public park or reservation forever." Today, John Brown Lives! is both the official friends group of the 250-acre state historic site abutting the High Peaks Forest Preserve, and a freedom education and human rights project active in the North Country. Long-time ADK members Benita Law-Diao and Jeff Jones are also JBL! board members and human rights activists. Influenced by the Black Lives Matter movement, their presentation will focus on the group's programs and activities designed to bring fresh awareness to the John Brown Farm's role in Adirondack, New York and U.S. history.

Registration is through the Saratoga Springs Public Library website:
<https://sspl.libcal.com/event/7199395>

Adirondack Mountain Club Advisory Council

Our newly adopted ADK Bylaws call for the creation of the ADK Advisory Council. The Advisory Council Charter states:

- The function of the Advisory Council shall be to advise and make recommendations to the ADK Board of Directors and Executive Committee with respect to matters of the ADK mission and create a forum for ADK Chapters to work together toward a common voice as it relates to issues affecting ADK Chapters. The Council shall advise, assist, support, and advocate for Chapters.

As ADK begins its second century and transitions to a “professional” board of directors, the new Advisory Council is your member services representation and your voice. The Trustees on the ADK Advisory Council will work toward making “One ADK” a reality. We will help each other achieve best practices in outings, communication, conservation and advocacy, education, use of technology among other areas important to the future of ADK.

As your Trustee representing the Glens Falls-Saratoga Chapter, I have three “asks”:

1. To hear from you. What are your concerns, suggestions, recommendations, and yes, even your complaints regarding ADK.
2. To ask you to get involved. The Advisory Council has committees. Member committees. The COVID-19 pandemic taught us how to work smart, leveraging technology to bridge the time and space gap. Committee meetings will be virtual, in-person or hybrid, convenient, and respectful of one’s personal time. Leaders and learners are both welcome. Interested? What more information? Send me an email.
3. To ask you to consider being an Alternate Trustee and working with me. Help makes the heavy lifting easier. And, yes, you would be the likely successor to the Chapter Trustee position. If you value ADK’s mission and want to learn more about your Chapter and the Adirondack Mountain Club organization, feel free to reach out to me. No obligation beyond asking questions. Let’s talk.

Chapter Chair Report ~ Jen Shepherd

As things begin to open back up and we return to our new normal, how did Covid and quarantine affect you in a positive way? Did you pick up a new outdoor hobby like hiking, biking, or paddling? Did you master a craft, finally dial in that home workout, or reach some major goal or milestone you just didn't have the time to do before?

For me, I really embraced my inner hermit a little too hard! I probably broke records in the Netflix binge department. I also revisited some crafting I used to enjoy and learned some new crafts. My cat has appreciated all the 1:1 time with me working from home too. I did continue to hike here and there but not as much as I normally would. Hiking used to be an escape from the day to day mundane and during Covid, it was less of an escape and more like something to get out of the house and keep me active and social. With more people hitting the trails, I'd like to explore the less popular peaks and trails less traveled to see what hidden gems I've been missing. How will you return to your new normal? Whatever it looks like, I hope there's plenty of room for whatever hobbies and/or outdoor activities that make you happy.

FRENCH LOUIE TRAIL OVERNIGHT - [Camp/Hike]

Sat, Jul 17, 2021, time TBD, Rating: A
Andrew Meunier - 518-376-2470, andrew.m.meunier@gmail.com
- This overnight backpacking trip will take us to a remote and beautiful corner of the Adirondack Park, far from the crowded trailheads of the high peaks. Its many lakes are home to moose, loons, ... and perhaps the occasional deer fly! We'll take the Cedar Lakes Trail to the Northville Placid Trail where it passes through the West Canada Lake Wilderness. Then we will follow the NPT west towards West Lake and explore what's left of the trapper/hermit French Louie's settlement. After a night spent at one of several lean-tos in the area, we'll leave the NPT and take the French Louie Trail east to complete our counterclockwise loop. Our total mileage will be ~20 miles spread over two days with ~2,000 feet of elevation gain. There will also be the option to summit Pillsbury Mountain on Sunday if we are feeling ambitious.

YM SUNSET HIKE: FRENCH MT

Tue, Jul 27, 2021, 6:30 pm, Rating: C
Megan McLaughlin - megan@adk.org
- Easy to moderate paced hike. We will meet at the Lake George outlets and walk 1 easy, flat, paved mile down the bike trail. We will then turn off the bike trail and begin the 1.3 mile ascent to French Mountain's overlook. Bring a headlamp or flashlight, snacks or pack dinner, extra layers, and a sense of adventure. Hike is weather permitting; rain will cancel or reschedule for Wednesday or Thursday. Beginners, families, and adorable dogs welcome. Email megan@adk.org to sign up and get exact -up location/time.

CAMEL'S HUMP VIA THE LONG TRAIL - [Hike]

Sat, Aug 7, 2021, 5:00 am, Rating: A+
Jennifer Ferriss - ferrissj@gmail.com
- I'm looking forward to finishing my VT 4000 this summer the "harder" way. This loop will bring us up the more challenging south side of the summit via Forest City to the Long Trail. Expect exposure, rock scrambles & a side trip to the plane wreck off the Alpine trail. Space is limited, as is parking so we will set off early. Plan on Saturday with a back up on Sunday for the ~6 mi round trip with approximately 2,461 feet of elevation gain. Meet up at exit 18 park & ride.

YM SUNSET HIKE: PINNACLE

Tue, Aug 10, 2021, 7:00 pm, Rating: C-

- Hopkins Mountain via Mossy Cascade Trail. Approximately 6.7 miles round trip located along Route 73 near Keene Valley. About a 2,200 foot gain in elevation, and the most incredible view of the Ausable Valley and the surrounding High Peaks. A nice way to end the summer and get ready for autumn colors. Rathbun's Maple Sugar House Sat, Apr 24, 2021, Steve Mackey

- I had to change the date a couple of times, due to other commitments and rainy weather, so some of the interested bikers weren't able to make it. When it was all said and done, we only had 4 bikers. The weather was good, it was reasonably warm, the traffic was light, and the breakfast was awesome. Somehow I managed to get a flat, but it wasn't a deal breaker. Neal rode ahead and got his wife's car (Edna met us at the restaurant), and we even made it to the restaurant before Licia and Gwenne got there. I almost brought an extra tube, but decided that it wasn't that far, and we would have cars around. The next day I fixed the tire, and I wouldn't have been able to get the tire off in the field, anyway. I probably will lead this again next year. It's really a great ride and a great breakfast. Participants: Gwenne Rippon, Neal Van Dorsten, Edna Van Dorsten, Steve & Licia Mackey.

Potash Sun, May 2, 2021, Jen Shepherd

- We had a lively group of twelve to start the day's adventure. On Potash Road, just before the farm, a lone turkey was wandering about near the road. Just past the farm, three turkey vultures were perched in a tree with two more circling overhead, giving the day a foreboding feel. It was cool in the shade of the parking area prior to starting our hike but we quickly warmed up on the gradual ascent the beginning of the trail offers. Before too long, it was warm and the early may flies were out just enough to be annoying but not yet taking my annual blood donation. The trail was in excellent shape thanks to the hard work Steve Mackey puts in weekly building stairs and clearing debris. The group made great time to the summit where we enjoyed cookies, oranges and cupcakes in celebration of the hike leader's birthday. The breeze kept the bugs at bay and the sun was warm and pleasant... a reminder to apply that sunblock! Some of the group wandered up to the actual summit to take pictures with the new sign while those of us that have been up there opted to stay down on the ledge with the views. We had the summit to ourselves minus one lone hiker who didn't stay long. On the way down, we decided to take the nature trail loop, something I'm ashamed to say I've never done in all the times I've hiked that mountain. It was lovely! Clearly not as well traveled, but it's well marked and even has markers pointing out specific trees. The wooden bench with a clearing and a view made for a nice stopping point before wrapping up the trip. 12 participants: Jen Shepherd (leader), Chandra Geremick (co-leader), Warren W., Jules G., Jen N., Patrick N., Alana G., Emily L., Kyle W., Steph G., Ted L., and Davey K.

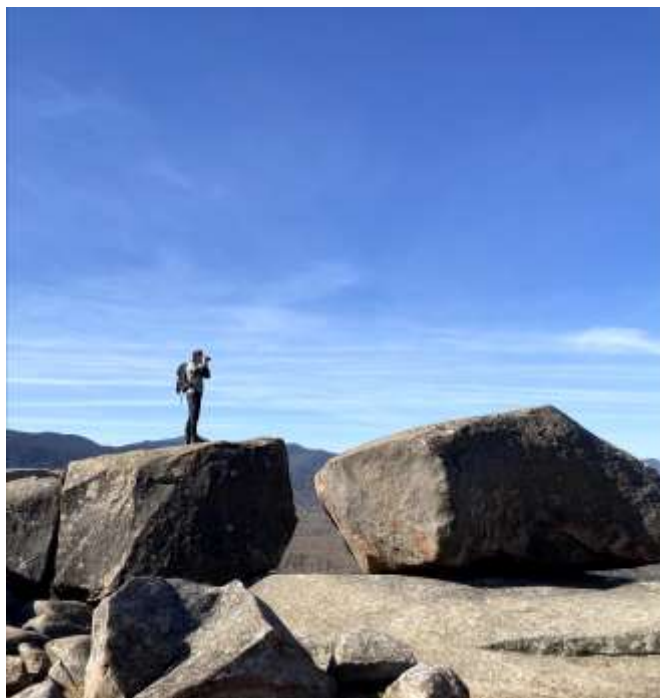

Hiking a Popular Hike in the Sentinel Range we choose not to name. Sat, May 15, 2021, Jennifer Ferriss and Joe Babcock

- With bated breath we drove to the Cascade and West Pitch-off trailhead, arriving as the second and third cars in the lot a little past 7 am. Where were all the hikers? With near perfect conditions, we got up the eroded trail at a steady pace, enjoying trillium before meeting another group near the Balanced Rocks herd path. Joe took the leap of faith across the boulders before we headed to the summit and beyond to enjoy all of the views and get more miles. We met a few more groups throughout the morning but essentially had the place to ourselves. We enjoyed the 7 slide on Cascade from many different points of view and saw the waterfall we never knew it had. Since this was a relatively short hike we soaked in all we could and then returned to Balanced Rocks for an early lunch before heading to Keene Valley to pick up some pies and treats. An attempt to climb Belfry Fire tower was quickly averted due to a bridge out, no cell service to reroute and the satisfaction that we would all be home early to enjoy the rest of our days. Joining trip co-leaders Jen Ferriss and Joe Babcock were Andrew Hart, Jeff Mans, Suzanne Rancourt, Erin Roberts and Liz Rovers.

Hadley Trail Work Day Sat, May 15, 2021, Steve Mackey

- I had to move the date from when I originally had this planned. Unfortunately, it ended up on the same date that Mo does her headquarters spring work day. The good news is that I didn't have to rake anything; the bad news is that we didn't get any ADK members. We got 4 long-time members of the Hadley Fire Tower Committee. We repaired pretty much all the water bars. Some were still working, but we made them all better. When we got up to the cabin (even though we all have keys to it) we discovered that none of us brought them along. I knew that mine were in my car, so I hustled down and back up with them. I got down in just over 30 minutes, and back up in just over 36. After we got the cabin all opened, we repaired one of the windows in the fire tower and screwed down some of the stairs going up. The last time I was up there, I noticed that one of the stairs wasn't screwed down at all. I fixed it, but as I looked further, I discovered a lot of them were missing nuts, and some of them both the bolt and the nut. I'll buy some more, and fix them all, next time I'm up there. (I'm guessing that this is a problem in other towers; I'll have to check some of them out). Many thanks to everyone for their help. Participants: Linda Ranado, Jackie Kline, Judd Driscoll, Steve Mackey.
